

4.1.5 Relocation

During the weeding process it may be determined that certain materials may better serve library patrons in another location and those items may be transferred to another branch or another collection as deemed appropriate. At the Central Library, valuable and irreplaceable items may be placed in secure storage based on usage, duplication, or protection from injury.